

Wen Parker Logistics' Director of Global Business Development

Wen-Parker Logistics (WPL), a global freight forwarder and supply chain solutions leader, is very excited to announce that Susan Utter will be joining our team of logistics professionals as our new Director of Global Business Development. Susan will be domiciled in the newly established Dallas sales office.

“Susan’s extensive years of sales management experience in the logistics industry will add a valuable perspective to our sales team,” says, Executive Vice-President of Global Business Development Brady Borycki.

Prior to joining the Wen-Parker team, Susan held sales positions with Flying Tigers (later merged with Federal Express), Cathay Pacific Cargo, followed by a role as Branch manager of Purolator International and most recently Kuehne & Nagle in Dallas.

“The establishment of our Dallas office was the next logical step in our brand extension due to the continued growth we have noticed for our suite of logistics services in this region,” continued Borycki.
